*John Miller, Americo
Executive Vice President for Sales and Marketing*

With over 40 years of experience in the cleaning industry, John Miller has served in many growth oriented positions including sales, sales training and senior sales management. During his career John has worked with well-known companies such as 3M and JohnsonDiversey. With such a diverse work history, John has extensive experience in lead generation, business development and in sales and marketing management. Today, John is the Executive Vice President for Sales and Marketing for Americo Manufacturing Company. Through his leadership and vision, John has propelled Americo to become one of the top manufacturers in the Jan/San industry with the most complete range of floor pads on the market world-wide. John is committed to environmental advocacy and was instrumental in all of the Americo Green initiatives including the introduction of Americo's Full Cycle™ floor pads. Under his guidance, Americo has developed over two dozen product innovations and the company's sales have more than doubled. John is an industry thought leader and is responsible for establishing the company's product training programs. He has a unique management style that fosters employees to reach greater goals, increasing talent retention and encouraging feedback from his direct reporting departments, including sales, marketing, sales administration and customer service. John's mentoring management style empowers his team to the next level of their personal and professional success.
